

Digitability Supports Your Transition Training Both Virtually and In the Classroom

Changes In Transition Services and Training

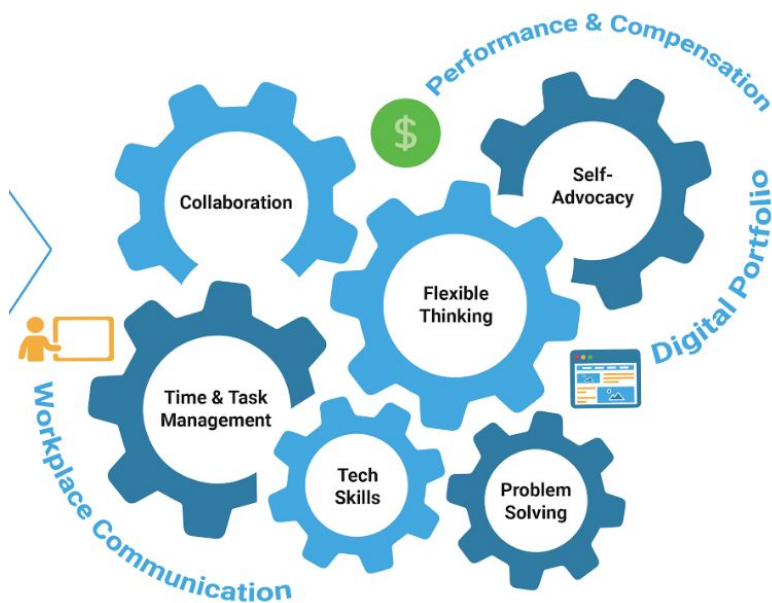

As a result of COVID-19, which has not only disrupted our lives in the short-term but also altered the landscape of education globally in the long-term, school systems across the country are losing opportunities for work experiences for special education students.

Lost On-Site Training Opportunities

Whether because of safety concerns or because of impending budget cuts, school partners across the country are halting site-based work experiences.

IEP & Transition Services Requirements

In the midst of all of this change, schools must continue making sure their students' IEP goals are met and progress towards those goals is documented.

Providing a Near-Term Online Solution and a Long-Term In-Classroom Model

Through Digitability Work Simulations, designed in partnership with our local, regional and national Workplace Partners or a school's own existing community partner, students gain the critical workplace readiness communication skills and behaviors that will make them successful in the workplace.

Digitability Work Simulations give students exposure to a variety of industries. Each student graduates with a complete work-ready portfolio that showcases their employment experience. Start Virtual or In-Classroom Work Simulations with Your Students!

Dr. David Mandell, Sc.D.

Director, Center for Mental Health Policy and Services, University of Pennsylvania | Pennsylvania

“Digitability gives schools an opportunity to provide support to high school students with autism in a way they wouldn’t be able to otherwise.”

Dana Steinwart

Lead Transition Teacher, Blue Valley School District | Kansas

“What I enjoy most about Digitability is the class participation I get due to the classroom economy system. Earning dollars is highly motivating, and I have 100% class participation. Every student is engaged in the lesson. I have also seen quick behavior changes when students pay dollars for behaviors. I love teaching Digitability.”

Dawn Nuoffer

Executive Director, Down Syndrome Association of Wisconsin | Wisconsin

“We have seen great success with Digitability. In the short time we have been offering this course, we have opened multiple class locations and will continue to replicate it across Wisconsin. Digitability is changing lives and helping our friends to secure meaningful jobs!”

Tracey Sterling

Supervisor of Special Education, Perkiomen Valley School District | Pennsylvania

“We brought Digitability to Perkiomen Valley School District because of the scope and relevance of its unique digital content. The training was differentiated and tailored to each of our students’ needs through evidence-based practices.”
